

Ode to Quarantine

Quarantine, an essential to all during this pandemic

You are keeping us all safe.

You are making some bored, some insane.

In some instances you are helping, but in others you can't do much.

But why are some ignoring you?

During this difficult time, we need you more than ever.

Some just don't understand.

To some, you don't exist at all.

People don't follow your rules.

Will you ever end?

Maybe not. We may never know.

But just now,

You do help and you do matter.

You keep us safe.

Thank you.
